Physical capabilities

The physical requirements of a Security Guard need to have the ability to deal with various security threats and challenges and perform physical tasks on a daily basis. For instance: ejecting a person from property who may be causing harm to a person or property/assets; perform first aid and good vision to have a strong sense of observation. The role often demands quick responses to particular situations and the ability to move quickly; and the physical ability to work on your feet for a whole shift patrolling sites or positioned at a gate checking people in and out or even running in emergencies.

Physical fitness enables you to handle these situations effectively. Strength and endurance are critical to your daily duties. Security Guards must be vigilant and attentive, constantly scanning their surroundings for potential threats or suspicious activities.
